D00092 - DBS CHECK CONDITION (CHILDREN)

Where the persons taking advantage of or benefitting from your services are children, you must ensure that

- an 'enhanced' CRB, DBS or SCRO check (as appropriate) is obtained for all employees engaged by you where you have a statutory obligation to do so
- where you do not have such an obligation, you must always ensure that such employees are under the direct supervision and in the presence of an employee who has been the subject of an 'enhanced' CRB, DBS or SCRO check (as appropriate).

100809 - Critical Vulnerability Exclusion

We will not pay you under the cyber and data risks section of cover where your legal liability or any loss that you suffer arises from a cyber attack that exploits a critical vulnerability within your computer equipment.

However this exclusion will only apply where a patch or fix for any critical vulnerability exploited has been available for 21 days prior to the date of the incident and has not been applied to your computer equipment.

Critical Vulnerability means a common vulnerability and exposure (CVE) in the National Vulnerability Database operated by the National Institute of Standards and Technology which has a score of 8.0 or higher on the Common Vulnerability Scoring System (CVSS)

In all other respects the terms and conditions of your policy remain unchanged.
